Interviewing

- After interviewing thousands of people, I feel that making an interviewee comfortable is paramount. It seems to allow the true depths of their experiences to flow orally, so that I may express them accurately via the written word. It has also been very illuminating to experience the opposite side, having been interviewed hundreds of times by online hobbyists, to the Associated Press to that of CNN.

Customer Service

- I have spoken in person to audiences 400+ large and been broadcasted live to tens-of-thousands of listeners along with appearing in print, on radio, or through televisions in over 40 countries.
